Longwoods Road Conservation Area

A place to enjoy the real outdoors! Accessible trails lead you on an adventure to a wetland boardwalk, across a meadow or even through a Carolinian forest and arboretum. Pack a picnic lunch and enjoy the whole day!

Ska-Nah-Doht

A recreated longhouse village of 1,000 years ago. The village is based on data collected by archaeologists and the Traditional Aboriginal Knowledge passed on by the First Nations people. Ska-Nah-Doht is from the Oneida language which means 'a village stands again'. A walking tour includes finding your way through the palisade maze, exploring a longhouse and taking time to think about the life of the Haudenosaunee people.

The Resource Centre

A great place to start! Discover artifacts from the Ska-Nah-Doht museum collection, Native studies displays and a hands-on activity room. Environmental exhibits, puzzles, games and activities tell you all about conservation, and the bird viewing area is not to be missed! See a show, pick up a brochure and trail map. Before you leave, visit "The Turtle Trail" gift shop.
