Public Notice

Consultation regarding proposed amendments to Source Protection Plans and Assessment Reports in the Thames-Sydenham and Region

What's happened?

Technical studies have resulted in proposed boundary adjustments to some municipal drinking water well head protection areas in the Thames-Sydenham and Region Assessment Reports (see map on website), and amendments to the Source Protection Plans.

How will this affect me?

If you live or work in an area that has changes, there may be policies in the Plans that will affect how and where certain activities, which could impact a drinking water source, can occur.

Let us know what you think.

The public is invited to submit comments on the proposed amendments to the Thames-Sydenham and Region Source Protection Plans and Assessment Reports, on or before July 24, 2022. Please submit your comments to welkerj@thamesriver.on.ca
